Grand Trial of Sewing Machines,
(Between the Willcox & Gibbs and Florence)
THE WILLCOX & GIBBS TRIUMPHANT.
IT is declared the BEST MACHINE, and awarded the highest premium.
For the Willcox & Gibbs Machine THIRTY-FIVE distinct claims were made for superiority, ALL of which were fully sustained for the Florence Machine but TEN were presented, only TWO of which were sustained. By this trial, more thorough than any of the kind ever previously attempted—a trial before an able and impartial jury, the justice of whose verdict none can dispute—it has been proved, decided and published to the world that the Willcox & Gibbs Machine is just what it has claimed to be—AN IMPROVEMENT ON DOUBLE THREAD MACHINES. It requires, we think, no prophet to foresee its accelerated progress in the future, or to foretell its ultimate triumph as the recognized Standard Sewing Machine of the World.

Fenian Excitement in Buffalo—The Mexican Question—From Baltimore—The Writ of Habeas Corpus served on the New Commissioners—The Warden delays answering it.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.

Official information reached General Sheridan yesterday of numerous murders and outrages committed against Union men in the parish of St. Landry.

Gen. Sheridan leaves for Texas to-morrow on important business.

The Tribune's Chicago special says:

A man named James Shaw, alias Colboth, alias Calvert, has been arrested on suspicion of robbing of the Massachusetts Express Company of $27,000.

BUFFALO, Nov. 5.

Considerable excitement prevailed at Fort Erie last night in expectation of a Fenian raid. The cause of the panic seems to have been the arrival of the U. S. steamer Michigan, which came to restore the Fenian arms captured last June, and a demonstration on Sunday afternoon in the iron works portion of the city, where Senator Morrison and other prominent Fenians made speeches.

A despatch to the Express from Potsdam, N. Y., the residence of District Attorney Dart, denies that he has been removed.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 5.

There are about 4000 Cheyenne Indians in the vicinity of Fort Ellsworth, and a peace council will be held with them this week.

A fight recently occurred in the neighborhood of Baxter Springs, between a party of surveyors under Colonel Phillips and Colonel Goss, and a number of desperadoes, in which Goss was killed and Phillips mortally wounded. Colonel Goss was the Democratic candidate for State Auditor. Col. Phillips was formerly a well known correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune.

The Union Pacific Railroad is graded 50 miles beyond Fort Riley, and the Company has iron for 120 miles of road. The extension of 250 miles west of Fort Riley will be completed a year from now.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 5.

At nine o'clock this morning Judge Bartol, Associate Judge of the Court of Appeals, appeared in the court room of the Circuit Court and took his seat on the bench to await and receive the returns upon the writs of habeas corpus issued by him. A few minutes past nine Bartol inquired if the writs had been issued upon the warden of the jail.

Mr. Latrobe, in behalf of the new commissioners, appointed by the Governor, announced that the writs had been served at seven this morning, and added that he just learned that the warden of the jail had been at the Court House this morning about nine without the prisoner; that in reply to an inquiry he had said his means of conveyance was exhausted and that he had come hither to get a supply.

Latrobe added, in a sarcastic strain, that he thought there were other hack stands much nearer to the jail that the Circuit Court room. He would not say whether this was or was not merely a continuation of the efforts of the other side to consume time. He did think, however, it looked like it.

Judge Bartol reminded the counsel the warden was not obliged to make return immediately. The law gave him three days in which to make his return.

Mr Schley considered that the intent of the law in this particular case was that three days should be the utmost limit, and that unless there was unavoidable impediment, he, the warden, was bound to produce the prisoners without delay.

Judge Bartol said the writs were issued by him at 5 o'clock Saturday evening, but it appeared from some reason they were not served until this morning.

Mr. Schley begged the court would wait a reasonable time further for the warden to make his return and produce the prisoners.

11 A. M. The court is still waiting. The prisoners have not yet been brought in. After some further waiting, and the prisoners not appearing, Mr Howitz, in behalf of Sheriff Thompson, said:

We have now waited one hour and a half after the hour named for the return of the writ. It was apparent that the warden of the jail was was seeking a pretext for delay. He, the warden—had come to the court house early with prisoners for the Criminal Court, which court did not meet for an hour after this court, and had not brought the prisoners on whose behalf the writs of habeas corpus had been issued. It was perfectly frivolous in him to say he had not sufficient room in his conveyance to bring them. He added:

But we are not without a remedy. The law made it the duty of the warden to make prompt return or show good and sufficient reason for delay. This has not been done. He therefore had, on behalf of his client, the high sheriff, prepared a petition that his honor would command the deputy sheriff to forthwith bring the warden before the court together with the high sheriff.

Mr. Schley said he would on behalf his clients, have a similar petition to offer.

Mr. Alexander, the counsel for the old commissioners, now appeared and expressed a desire to be heard. He understood that the warden was now in consultation with counsel, and he had no doubt some return to the writ would soon be made.

Messrs. Schley, Latrobe and Howitz desired to know if Mr Alexander could inform them definitely what the return would be. Mr. A said he was not counsel for the warden, and could not say what the return would be. He hoped and expected, however, that by 2 p. m. such return would be made as would render any further proceedings here unnecessary.

THE WORLD'S GREAT FAIR. A private letter to Gov. Hawley of Connecticut, written by an American gentleman, residing in Paris, gives the following account of the preparations being made for the Great Paris Exhibition in 1867:

The preparations being made for the Universal Exhibition are upon the most magnificent scale, and will far exceed anything which has ever preceded it. The territory devoted to the purposes of the exhibition is immense, embracing the whole of the large plain extending from the River Seine to the great military school, and known as the Champ de Mars, where an army of many hundred thousand soldiers might, as often has been the case, perform their evolutions during a review. This vast plain is now undergoing changes necessary to convert it from a military parade ground to the purposes of the great exhibition. The principal building for the purpose is a vast circular structure, constructed chiefly of iron and glass, and you can form some idea of the extent from the fact that it is oval in form, shaped much like an egg, having its shortest diameter one-half mile in length, and the circumference not less than two miles. In the centre is a space devoted to fruits and flowers, and from this as a hub, avenues lead to the circumference of the building in all directions and at equal distances, and these are also connected by other passages running round the inside of the building at uniform distances like concentric rings, so that the whole of this vast building is divided into convenient spaces for the exhibition of all the products of the world that will be likely to be exposed upon exhibition, with convenient and easy access for their examination by the vast multitudes which will be attracted here by this most wonderful exhibition. The work is in a great state of forwardness, and besides the construction of the principal building, which will cost more than $2,500,000, that sum having been appropriated to its construction, other improvements are necessitated, viz: the construction of new streets and avenues. The grading of a vast public park on the opposite side of the river, which with the removal of the buildings would at home require almost as many years, is here being done in as many months. The river itself, by a canal which is now being built, is to be conducted into the palace under an arched bridge. These works are all being carried on to furnish accommodations for this greatest of all shows, and the room and accommodations furnished to the exhibitors free of charge, except only if extra accommodations or fitting of the space or additional ornamentation are required by individuals or the agent of the exhibitors of any country, it is done at the expense of the parties requiring it. Besides this, other works are being carried forward not exactly required by the chief object and plan of the exhibition, but yet rendered very desirable to persons who avail themselves of the exhibition to introduce and sell their wares, and for this purpose large buildings and stores are being erected in the immediate neighborhood, where exhibitors may expose their products for sale, and where marts will be opened and established for the sale of articles found in the great exhibition.

A Paris correspondent of the New York World furnishes the following:

Crossing the eight ellipses, like so many radii, are sixteen great avenues which serve to divide the edifice into the compartments intended for the respective races and nations. Of these the two great transverse avenues are of equal height with the exterior and interior ellipses, but none of them cross the central fountain space. There the loud hum of all quarters ceases, and the wearied visitors, under the leaves of green ferns and spreading flowers, may taste the separate cuisines of every nation on the globe. American buckwheat cakes, and Bourbon compounds mixed in Boston ice, will alternate with Egyptian coffee, Smyrna sherbet, and household rats, a la Chinoise. It is the rule of the exhibition that each cafe shall sell only refreshments indigenous to its nationality. Out of this monster building sixty arches open into the Palace Garden, which also is representative of the architectures of all the countries, variegated with bowers, cloisters, offices, cascades, bowered walks, lakes, grand aisles of trees, minarets, mosques, observatories. The grand portal of the exhibition is to be built of Paris limestone, carved with the arms of the empire, and the motto of welcome, made of fine colossal arches, the middle of which is lighted with a grand rose window, greater than Notre Dame's; the whole is magnificently lighted with crystal chandeliers and where the whole fabric stands, the greatest in size, as the most perfect in ornament of any such building ever designed, there was not six months ago any green growing thing. Eight thousand trees have been, in their full height, transplanted here; six thousand workmen have wrought the great ribs of the building; fifteen thousand men have prepared the grounds; two thousand six hundred masons have set the stone foundations; eleven hundred carters and teamsters have driven twenty eight hundred horses to and fro in this preparation. The cost of this edifice proper has been eighty millions of francs, and the transformation of the grounds, specific and outlying, has cost thirty-two millions.

THE GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY. Much complaint has from time to time been made against this road, but we have been led to inquire whether there has really been sufficient consideration by the public of the actual condition of the road. In the first place it was a work of great magnitude. It cost millions of dollars to place such a road in running order. When first built it was regarded the best finished road in America. Time rolled on, and its debts must be paid bridges must be rebuilt, and new iron bought to replace the old at a time when iron was enormously high. The Victoria Bridge cost more than half dozen of some roads. The public have not realized the difficulties under which it has labored. Mistakes may have been made. Possibly arbitrary regulations may have occasionally been adopted, but notwithstanding all this, it has been like a mighty river bearing, along its course the immense wealth of the West to the shores of the Atlantic, and if we feel sure that its managers are aiming to sink its debt, we ought not to complain. To keep all the connections in a road of eight hundred or a thousand miles in length must require no small amount of skill in its management.

The Lowell Courier says:

We clip the above truthful paragraph from the Maine Farmer. We know something concerning this road, and we know much respecting a portion of the country through which it passes. This road has long been subjected to unreasonable criticism from certain quarters, but its condition has never been as unfavorable as represented, and it has suffered no more reverses than have other great railway thoroughfares. The Grand Trunk will survive all opposition, no matter from what quarter it comes. Its construction opened a pathway through a marvelously forbidding region, connecting the valley of the St. Lawrence with the seacoast and that way will never again be closed. It has a geographical position that secures its perpetuity, and the road must and will remain, an iron band uniting two countries an avenue for the transportation of travellers and to further the interests of great commercial enterprises.

FACTS ABOUT QUARTZ MINING. Although great successes in mining are exceptional, the exceptions in California are becoming quite numerous, and afford examples of the heaviest incomes realized on this coast. The second largest income return for 1865 in San Francisco, was that of James P. Pierce, a lucky Yuba county miner, whose net receipts were $102,011. The largest income in Nevada county is that of Jules Fricot, which was $182,511. This is $71,000 in excess of the largest income returned in San Francisco by one of the heaviest bankers, and was derived from quartz mining. It is probably the largest income in the State. There are many other persons in Nevada county whose incomes for 1865 ranged between $40,000 and $100,000. Among these are Messrs. Riport and Pralus, partners of Fricot, whose incomes amounted to over $91,000 each.—Full returns from the principal mining centres of the State would furnish many similar examples of the wealth derived from successful mining operations, and would support the idea that the wealthiest citizens of California are hereafter to be the owners of her best lodes. The figures presented above remind one of the princely incomes realized during the last century from the mines in Mexico and South America, and are the more remarkable when we consider how disproportionate they are to the amount invested in the banking, commercial, and real estate operations, which yield smaller returns, in the great cities. Some of the enormous banking capitals of the country, for instance, reaching from $2,000,000 to $10,000,000, and some of the heaviest railroad investments, reaching sums even higher, do not yield as much profit as some quartz mines which represent a capital expenditure of from $100,000 to $500,000 only.

Larger fortunes are being realized from quartz mining at this time than were ever obtained in the palmiest days of the placer mining excitement, when the cream of the surface diggings was yet unskimmed.—[San Francisco Bulletin.

ENORMOUS RENTS IN NEW YORK. It is now a question whether a rent can be demanded for certain (Metropolitan) localities so extravagant as to shut off tenants.—The high rents of ten years ago appear trifling when compared with the present rates; and hence one may wonder when the demand will abate. The marble building, corner of Nassau and Cedar streets, rents in the aggregate, for $250,000 yer year; this sum being made up by the various banks, brokers, and lawyers, who play the agreeable part of tenants.

The Board of Brokers pay annually $25,000 for a chamber about fifty by seventy feet, in which its daily sessions are held. Brokers' offices range from $2000 to $4000, and hence many club together, and a half dozen desks may be seen in a single basement. The most profitable rental, relative to its cost, in the world, is Trinity Building. This is a plain structure of common brick about forty feet front by one hundred and sixty feet deep. It stands next to Trinity Church on Broadway, near Wall Street. It cost $200,000 in 1852, and then rented for $30,000, its use being coal offices and banking. The rate has gradually advanced until its aggregate rent roll is about $175,000, or about eighty per cent. per annum. Trinity Building is now chiefly occupied by Pennsylvania mines; and $1000 is paid for second class offices. The yearly sales of coal in this building amount to two million tons.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.

Last night Gov. Swann came over for the fifth time to consult with Mr. Johnson about the Baltimore imbroglio. Telegraphing his coming in advance, Montgomery Blair was sent to the railroad station to meet him, and the party drove directly to the White House and with solemn and excited paces were ushered into the presence of the President. Here the veil dropped for outsiders, and no one has been able to hear what the conspirators determined upon. There repeated consultations are taken as indications that they appreciate the dangers of their position and would like to move circumspectly as possible. Sagacious Johnson men here complain bitterly of what they term Swann's blundering course, and look upon the affair as one of those unfortunate occurrences which at most unpropitous times have so greatly damaged their cause.

It is understood that the despatches between Baltimore and the White House have been very numerous today. That one, at least, related to knotty legal questions is shown by the fact that a messenger from Mr. Johnson summoned the attorney-general from church about the middle of the service. The Presidents clique seem to have been entirely unprepared for the course taken by the Baltimore unionists, and some of the members despair of being able to accomplish anything in time to influence the election.—[Sp. to Boston Adv.

OUR NEW ADVANCE ON MEXICO. Negotiations or arrangements are said to be going on, whereby our Government is to support the Juarez or "Liberal" Government of Mexico, not only against the imperial usurpation of Maximilian, but also to give it aid and support against other factions in Mexico—and in consideration thereof the United States are to receive a cession of Lower California, and parts of Sonora and Chihuahua. That the acquisition of this territory, adjacent as it is to our own, and most valuable to our mining interests, would be of great importance and benefit to this country, cannot be disputed—but it is doubtful whether it would be either honorable or beneficial to the United States to intervene actively in the affairs of Mexico in order to obtain it—any farther, at least, than to assert and vindicate the Monroe doctrine, against foreign usurpers. It will be doubtful policy to intervene in favor of one Mexican pretender against another—although, so far as we can see or understand, Juarez is the only native leader who has any just claim to the Presidency of that distracted country. The idea of sustaining him is, however, more likely to be received, as the Boston Herald says, because the territory to be ceded ought to be acquired in some honest way by the United States. According to the present boundary line the mouth of the Colorado river, where it empties into the head of the Gulf of California is in Mexican territory. This has been heretofore considered a matter of small consequence, as little was known of the Colorado river, or the country through which it flows. But this region has been pretty thoroughly explored within a few years, and the river is now known to be a very important stream, flowing through a fertile country which also abounds in mineral wealth, and furnishing the only practical outlet to the larger part of that country. The Colorado is made up of several streams which rise in the Rocky Mountain region, in Colorado, Utah, Arizona and New Mexico, and is navigable for steamers of large capacity for hundreds of miles from its mouth. Several steamers are already employed on this river, and its banks resound to the hum of the busy industry of hundreds of enterprising Americans who have sought this hitherto almost unexplored nook of the continent, which offers great inducements to settlers who are willing to brave the perils and privations of frontier life. We have an abundance of evidence that in Arizona, particularly, along the navigable stretch of the Colorado river, is some of the best land in the country, while the scenery is pronounced magnificent. This region was the abode of the famous Aztec race, which has left monuments of a civilization far in advance of that of any other people found on this continent. Dr. Willings, chief of the United States Exploring Expedition in that territory, who has himself discovered ruins of great cities, which have awakened intense curiosity in the minds of ethnologists, assures us that parts of Arizona are the most fertile and beautiful regions he has ever seen, and that the climate is the most beautiful in the world.

THE VALUE OF PEAT. The Montreal Gazette gives an account of the trial of peat on the Grand Trunk Railway. One tender-load of peat carried the heaviest passenger train of the season a distance of 102 miles. It appears that a second trial was made on the 13th inst., in which the results obtained were still more striking than on the first occasion. The locomotive of the express passenger train running from Point St. Charles to Kingston was supplied with one hundred and twenty-eight baskets of peat. The results of the trial are briefly stated, as follows:

Total distance run, 177 miles.

Consumption of fuel, 3¼ tons, less 62 pounds.

Average consumption of fuel per mile 45 pounds.

Maximum consumption of fuel between stations, 60 pounds per mile.

Average distance for each ton of fuel, 50½ miles.

Value of fuel consumed—3¼ tons at $3.50 per ton—$12.25.

How these results compare, says a Western paper, with those obtained from coal and wood will be seen from the following statement derived from experiments on the Boston and Worcester Railway since last August:

Average miles run to one ton of coal,	59.91
Average miles run to one cord wood,	40.09
Average miles run with one ton of Mr. Hodge's peat,	50.50

For the amount of coal, wood and peat required to run a locomotive a distance of one hundred and seventy-seven miles the costs is stated as follows:

1st. Coal—2.95 tons at $10,	29.50
2d Wood—4.41 cords at $7,	30.87
3d. Peat—3¼ tons at $4.50	15.75

The Lewiston Journal has statistics upon the value of peat, from which it deduces that the cost of prepared peat is from $3 to $4 a ton, each ton as good as a ton and a half of mixed wood, worth, cut, $8 per cord, so that a quantity of peat represented by $8 worth of wood would, making a liberal allowance, cost less than $3—a difference of over one hundred and fifty per cent in favor of peat—that one machine for preparing the peat can be started for $3000, but that a capital of $10,000 will run six machines and produce from 7,000 to 10,000 tons of prepared peat per annum at a profit of $25,000 to $40,000—a good business.

Moreover, the peat is plentiful everywhere in our New England country, and there is no reason why the people should be swindled and victimized by the outrageous profits demanded by the forwarders and western dealers in cord-wood—$2.50 at the mines, and costing $10 here. A single bog near Lewiston contains 150,000 cords of peat on fifty acres.

FIFTEEN CAUSES FOR REMOVAL. R. A. Conner, a soldier who was wounded and captured at the battle of Chickamauga, and suffered all the horror of rebel prison pens, except death, has been removed from the office of Postmaster at North Vernon, Jenning County, Ind., and a stay-at-home supporter of "My Policy" takes his places. Mr. Connor publishes fifteen reasons why he was removed, all of which are conclusive against his holding an office under the present Administration. We copy the following portion of them:

6. I am removed because I do not support the infamous Rebel Democratic party, which systematically tried to murder me for fifteen long, dreary months, by starvation and exposure.

7. I am removed because I do not support the Democratic party, which starved me three days and nights, at Florence, S. C., for daring to point out to them the modes of life of some of my comrades.

8. I am removed because I do not support the Democratic party, which caused me to be shot at Chickamauga, and because I shot some of said Democrats.

9. I am removed because I do not support the Democratic party for robbing me at Richmond, Va.

10. I am removed because I do not support the Democratic Johnson party, whose members shot at and starved me at Belle Isle.

11. I am removed because I do not support the Democratic party, one of whom tried a second time to shoot me in Smith's Building at Richmond.

12. I am removed because I do not support the Democratic party, which endeavored to freeze me to death, during the winter of 63-64, at Danville, Va.

13. I am removed because I do not support the infernal and treasonable Democratic party, which came near starving me at Charleston, S. C.

15. I am removed because I do not support the assassins' President.

THE BALTIMORE AFFAIR REPORTED TO BE AMICABLY SETTLED. The despatches of last evening to the Times had the following, which may be confirmed by our own despatches this morning:

The Commercial's Baltimore despatch says:

The Police Commissioners' difficulty has been arranged by Gen. Grant.

The old Police Commissioners are to appoint one democratic judge in each precinct, and to see that ballot boxes are provided for the reception of rejected votes of registered voters.

The law Courts are to finally decide on the legality of these rejected votes. The votes for State officers are to be certified to the State Legislature, and the votes for the members of Congress will be returned to Congress. This will bring the case before the State and Federal Legislatures, with a prospect of amicable settlement.

ANNEXATION OF ROXBURY TO BOSTON. The Herald says that the Mayor has appointed William Gray, Moses Kimball and A. S. Wheeler, commissioners on the part of Boston to meet the commissioners of Roxbury and see how far it may be mutually beneficial to bring under one government the two municipalities which they represent.

POLITICS THE BANE OF THE SOUTH.—The New Orleans Commercial says: "We are paying more attention to politics, with worse results, than any other people that ever attempted to handle that unprofitable article; and there never was a time when we could let it alone to better advantage.—We impoverish ourselves and enrich our enemies every time we touch the quarrelsome thing."

THE BALTIMORE CASE. In 1863 Governor Seymour, of this State, removed the Metropolitan Police Commissioners, and appointed others in their place. The sitting Commissioners refused to give up office.—There was a good deal of excitement; but did the Governor call on the federal government? Did he begin his examination of the charges against the Commissioners with a threat to use the federal forces against them? Did he visit Washington before, and during, and after the trial, and consult the President upon this merely local matter?

He did nothing of the kind. The matter was taken before the proper tribunals, the courts, and before they came to a decision, the legislature, which met in the meantime, changed the law and thus settled the dispute.

In 1860, the present Governor of Maryland was Mayor of Baltimore, and as such, at the head of the city police. The Maryland legislature, at that time, passed the Police bill, and the first Board of Commissioners appointed thereunder required the Mayor to surrender the Police Department of the city to them. He refused, and prepared to resist the ingress of the new board. "Under advice of their counsel, the Commissioners resorted to their remedy by mandamus. They succeeded in asserting the validity of their appointment, and Mayor Swann gracefully yielded," as a matter of course. That is to say, the Mayor held over until the courts had decided against him. He did not call on the federal government, or talk about bloodshed and revolution. Nor did the Governor at that time indulge in such threats against Mayor Swann; if he had, that gentleman would no doubt have expressed great contempt for the Governor.—[N. Y. Post.

GEN. GRANT AND THE PRESIDENCY. A gentlemen of this city, an intimate personal friend of General Grant, called on him not long since. His purpose was to get the influence of Gen. Grant with the President in relation to an office in the city. General Grant told him frankly that his name would be of no service to him, but an injury. He said he had solicited very few favors of the President, and to them no favorable response was returned. He said that one day Mr. Johnson spoke with him in relation to it. He said to Gen. Grant: "You say that you are not a candidate for the Presidency. Now promise me," said the President, "that you will not let your name be used in connection with that office, and I will grant you any favor in my power to bestow." To this Gen. Grant replied: "Mr. Johnson, I am not a candidate. But suppose the people insist on making me one, what can I do? And besides, Mrs. Grant has been looking at the White House, and thinks she can run that establishment quite as well as it is run now. And you know, Mr. President, that these women will do pretty much as they please. And Mrs. Grant would decidedly object to my giving any such promise." The President looked as if he did not understand exactly whether this was in jest or in earnest.—[New York correspondent of the Boston Journal.

BUBBLE BURST. Speculation, which has been of late inordinately rampant at the Produce as well as at the Stock Exchanges, met with a severe—let us hope with a decisive—check at the former institution yesterday. Pork fell $2 (making a decline of $4 in two days) per barrel, under the depressing influence of an asterisned heavy and augmenting supply; while wheat receded from 8 cents to 5 cents, and corn fully 5 cents per bushel, under unexpected reports of depression in Liverpool, and of increasing reluctance on the part of sailing ships to discount grain dollars' worth miles on a very wide margin. At the reduced figures there were many eager sellers, while buyers were decidedly scarce.—[N. Y. Times, 3d.

The grand secret of medication is to help Nature. SUSTAIN and REGULATE—these are the Alpha and Omega of the only theory of cure that has common sense for its basis. LAW!
CITIZENS OF BANGOR!!
I HAVE BEEN THE RECIPIENT of many acts of kindness, and much sympathy from your hands. For all these favors you have my sincere gratitude, and the assurance that they will ever be forgotten.
But having fully decided not to change my residence, lest fortune deal with me as it may, but and die a citizen of Bangor, devoting all my energies to the practice of my profession, if I may, and only one. I respectfully but earnestly ask all who desire my happiness, prosperity, or to see me overwhelmed in a conspiracy to destroy the reputation and hopes of a fellow being—and that is myself—and send me quietly to my own place, and give me that, and I will ever be for me a permanent friend for all time, whenever that is asked in an opportunity to take care of myself—or in other words, enough to do it. Words of sympathy, when one is in trouble, warm the heart, and give courage even in the darkest hour! But sympathy alone does not furnish a home and clothing, educate children, support dependent friends, pay for the preaching of the gospel, or enable one to contribute to the support of the various charitable enterprises of the day. Money is essential, indispensable to do the business of the public in and private during the circuitous route of my business, and I will assure you to do nothing unbecoming my reputation or pocket.
I may, I think, be regarded as a sufficiently long case, for making the case an abstract, that the demands made upon me as a person, cannot be met without a more liberal patronage. I pray you, then, not also on the ground that it is very evident that many kind friends have gone to Adams the negro of this kind of aid, but have in many instances thoughtlessly placed their business in the hands of my worst enemies.
Gentlemen, I am one of your number, and I feel I can be respectably and successfully employed, otherwise, as you may choose to have it.
Benj. Kimball.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 5—2½ p. m.

The proceedings before Judge Burton are still in progress.

The counsel for Sheriff and police commissioners have now introduced a petition that inasmuch as there is reason to believe the warden of the jail is seeking to evade the prompt return of the writ by unnecessary delay, that, therefore, a new writ be issued directed to the Sheriff or his deputy to bring the warden before the court with the prisoners.

Upon the admission of this petition the counsel are now arguing.

About two o'clock the Marshal of the Police having learned that arms were being distributed to certain parties at Bennett's auction store, on Charles street, went thither with a strong force of police and found in the upper room parties engaged in loading pistols and other arms. Resistance was offered and one man, a citizen, was shot, but the police siezed the establishment together with the parties therein, and also about one hundred and fifty boxes of fire arms and ammunition.

3½ o'clock—The court has decided that the warden has three days to make his return, which will not expire until Thursday morning at nine o'clock.

Second Despatch—

BALTIMORE, Nov. 5.

Gen. Grant's visit to this city is understood for the purpose—in his capacity of a private citizen—solicitous of preserving the peace—to make to the police commissioners of Baltimore at the instance of Governor Swann, the following propositions—

First—That each set of commissioners cause separate polls to be opened in the several election districts and receiving such votes as may be decided to be legal by their judges of election, and have these votes classified and certified to the State Legislature and to Congress.

The police commissioners respectfully declined to entertain this proposition, as it would be contrary to the election laws of the State, and that by accepting it they would be guilty of worse malfeasance in office than any that has been charged against them—that it was their purpose to conduct the election strictly in accordance with the provisions of the laws and constitution of the State, and that it was not in their power to take agreements that conflicts with the law.

The next proposition made was substantially as follows—

That the old police commissioners appoint one conservative judge of the three to be appointed at each of the polls; that these judges receive the votes of those who present themselves, and who are found to be upon the several registers; that two sets of ballot boxes be used, in one of which are to be deposited the votes accepted, and in the other the votes rejected.

The first part of this proposition was simply in accordance with the pledge made by Mr. Alexander before Gov. Swann, whilst the charges against the commissioners were being investigated. It was made then as a concession by the party in power to the conservatives, with the view of preserving the peace, and the commissioners having already announced officially in the morning papers that they would appoint one judge and one clerk in each precinct from the conservative party, there was of course no objection to it. The remainder of it being fully covered by the provisions of the registry law, of course there could be no objection about this portion of the proposition.

The particulars of the seizure of arms are as follows:

As near as can be ascertained upon information received at the Police Commissioners' office, that certain parties were preparing to resist their authority by force of arms, and that as certain individuals were then engaged in preparing to distribute arms for such resistance, and these parties were in an upper story of Bennett's auction house, on Charles Street, they sent thither Marshal Carmichael with a strong force of police, who at once took possession of the establishment.

On forcing an entrance to a room in which were found some fifteen men actively engaged in load a large lot of Belgian muskets which had been altered into rifles, the man rushed at the Marshal with a bayonet and musket and attempted to shoot him. The Marshal threw up the weapon and knocked the man down, and quickly, with his officers, arrested all of the men and conveyed them to the station house. Their arms and munitions consisting of muskets, kegs of powder, rifle balls and pistol balls, were also moved to the police station.

Unfortunately, on putting the muskets into a furniture wagon to convey them thither, one of the pieces was discharged, shooting a citizen in the face, and seriously, tho' it is hoped not fatally, injuring him.

LATER.

There were 181 cases of arms captured at Bennet's auction house. About fifty stand of them were loaded and capped. Another lot of 150 muskets loaded and capped were seized this evening at a grocery on Bond street near eastern avenue. Another lot of 79 muskets were taken from the store of Mr. Buck on Light street. Altogether about six thousand stand of arms are reported to have been siezed. About one hundred arrests were made to-day by the police on the charge of riotous conduct.

Third Despatch.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 5.

Attorney General Randall has given an opinion on registry law, declaring it to be the authority and duty of judges of election to scan the list of registered voters, and exclude from voting all whom they are convinced are disfranchised under the provisions of the constitution.

After a conference of some five or six hours, lasting till ten o'clock to-night, between the Police Commissioners and a committee representing the Conservative party, with a view to the latter's naming one judge and one clerk to be appointed by the Police Commissioners, for each precinct, according to agreement made at the conference with Grant, the Conservative committee abandoned the whole matter, and withdrew without making any nominations to the Police Board. They had previously claimed the right to review the entire list of registers, and to object to any man who had not a property qualification of $10,000.

This was rejected by the commissioners, and it was finally determined by them that they would appoint a judge and clerk in every precinct, giving the committee until 10 o'clock to-night to make their nominations.

About the time named, the committee, of which Lieut C C Cox was one, sent a communication to the commissioners declining any further action in the matter. Thus the list of judges and clerks stand as at the Mayor's election.

La Cromis says—

The Empress Carlotta's mission was to demand from France, officers for the Imperial army organizing in Mexico, a new General-in-Chief in place of Bazaine, to postpone until April the return of the expeditionary corps, and to extend the time for the payment of the debt two years longer. She has been completely successful in all her requests.

The Emperor Maximilian is taking the offensive in all parts, and taxes are collected without trouble.

The Imperialists had defeated 800 Liberals near Vera Cruz, taking 200 prisoners.

The Emperor was paying his debts as fast as claims were presented.

The French regiment announced to embark for Europe had left for the interior.

Eight hundred men, whose terms had expired, had enlisted in Maximilian's new army.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.

H. West, Esq., the efficient and courteous chief clerk of the Treasury department, was yesterday stricken with paralysis. His condition has somewhat improved to-day.

Minister Romero today received the following letter by way of New Orleans. It is dated Vera Cruz, Oct. 26th:

"Maximilian left the City of Mexico on the 23d inst., resigning verbally in favor of General Bazaine. General Bazaine endeavored to persuade him to delay his departure until General Castelman's arrival, two days later, but he declined, and escorted by 500 Austrians, proceeded to Orizaba by cross roads to avoid meeting with General Castelman. He reached Orizaba yesterday, and is expected here to-morrow.

The captain of the Austrian frigate Danubio states that as soon as Maximilian arrives he will at once leave for Europe.

It is said that Maximilian will publish a manifesto at Orizaba today.

General Castelman reached the City of Mexico soon after Maximilian left, and took possession of the palace, and assumed the reins of government.

The French soldiers who had entered under Maximilian's colors, will be returned to France under General Castelman's influence.

General Porfirio Diaz has captured the city of Oaxaca, taking all the artillery, ammunition, men and supplies.

WASHINGTON, Nov 5.

Upon request of the Senate of the United States and request of Gen. Grant the President has appointed Col. Albert J Myer to be Chief Signal Officer of the regular army.

Colonel Myer organized and commanded the signal corps of the army during the rebellion and was the originator of that branch of service.

It is denied by both the President and Secretary of War that they have given any orders to Maj. General Sheridan not to arrest any of the parties accused of committing murder on the 13th of July in New Orleans.

The monthly statement of the public debt will not be published for several days.

A special despatch from Savannah to the Charleston Courier says two citizens sentenced to death by a military commission were discharged from custody by the United States District Court on a writ of habeas corpus and returned over to civil authorities. These are all the military prisoners.

TORONTO, Nov. 5.

The Fenian trials were resumed at noon to-day. Dr. Drummond was first placed in the dock, but the trial was postponed for account of the absence of witnesses.

Benj. Peri, about fifteen years old, was next tried on the same indictment as the others. The evidence against him was chiefly from his own statement when captured, that he came with the Fenians from Cincinnati to see his uncle, crossed with them, got frightened and was trying to get back to Buffalo when captured. The prisoners mother was examined and gave an excellent character.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., Nov. 5.

The Constitutional amendment was referred in each house to-day, with instructions to report as early as practicable.

A. H. Stephens opposes delay and thinks the Legislature should act immediately on the subject and settle the question so far as Georgia is concerned.

The rejection of the amendment is deemed certain.

Adjourned one week.

General Charles W. Roberts, this morning assumed the duties of Collector of Customs at the port of Bangor, vice William P Wingate removed. Thus, at last, a place which the general sentiment of this community long since awarded as rightfully and appropriately due to some gallant soldier but which the old "ring" steadily disregarded, has accrued to one eminently such, and having a military record of which his friends are justly proud.—[Times.

The Times would represent the change in the Bangor Collectorship as merely for the purpose of giving a good place to a military man; when the fact as everybody knows, is that Mr. Wingate was removed simply and only because he refused to become a renegade from his principles and his party, and declined to support the President's "policy." He is victimized for his faithfulness to principle. There would otherwise have been no removal, and no complaint—for no officer was ever more prompt and faithful to duty, or ever gave better satisfaction to the entire mercantile community of this district, in his administration of the office, than Mr. Wingate, and no man would be more heartily recommended by his fellow citizens for re-appointment to-day. To be sure he had commenced his second term, and served some six months; but he received that re-appointment from President Lincoln, upon the petition of nearly all the merchants and leading men of the district, and there was no cause except political prescription for his removal. Had he turned traitor to his party and his principles like some other men, we should have heard no clamor from The Times [illegible] Owen, the first new Collector, was an old gallant officer who had been at death's door from rebel bullets, and who received a pension from Mr. Lincoln a few months ago.

DESERVED COMPLIMENT TO A BANGOR BOY. We learn from a letter from Fort Yuma, California, that Major Howard Mills, now there, son of Major W. H. Mills of this city, has recently received two brevet appointments from the President—one of Captain, dating July 3, 1863, "for gallant and meritorious conduct at the battles of Chancellorsville and Gettysburgh"—the other of Major, dated April 9, 1865, "for gallant and meritorious conduct in the campaign terminating with the surrender of the insurgent army of Northern Virginia." This promotion and complimentary notice was well earned, by gallant services rendered to the country. We learn from the same source that Major Hatch of the 4th U. S. Cavalry (Brigadier General of Volunteers) is to be made Colonel of one of the new regiments of regulars.

—The following are the present incumbents of the various places in the Bangor Custom House, under the new Collector—Gen. Roberts, who took possession yesterday as before noticed:

E. T. Fox, Inspector and Deputy Collector.

Captain Percival Knowles, Inspector and Deputy Collector.

Captain George Dudley, Inspector and Deputy Collector at Winterport.

D. M. Howard, Weigher and Measurer.

A. P. Bradbury, Aid to Revenue.

Peleg T. Jones, Aid to Revenue (Lincoln.)

It will be seen that the services of Mr. Fox, the former able and efficient officer man, are retained by the new Collector. Justice to Mr. F. makes it proper for us to say that while retaining the place he yields no political principle.

—The lumbering business in Maine for the past season—especially that of the Penobscot and Aroostook valleys,—has been very prosperous. In consequence of the ample supply of water for sawing, and the lively demand for sale, the amount manufactured and sold has been very much larger than that of any year for a long time past—and the prices have been good and remunerative. The Bangor survey is already some sixty millions in advance of that of last year, and will probably go twenty or thirty higher, (say 225,000,000 in all) if the river continues open into December as usual. This large manufacture, survey and sale must, we suppose, leave over a smaller surplus of old logs for next year's consumption than usual. The demand appears likely to be quite as good next year as it has been this; for there is a large amount of necessary repairing and improvement yet to be done, (left during the past five years for times of lower prices not likely soon to come), and large extra requirements will be made for new building in and out of the State. We hope, therefore, to see adequate preparations for a more than usually active campaign in the woods during the coming winter. The time will soon arrive for sending in the teams.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S REPORT. We have not yet received the closing war report of Adjutant General Hodsdon, and do not know that it is yet completed. It will be, it is said, the most complete and valuable document of the kind ever published. It has been delayed much longer than at first intended—but for the laudable purpose of presenting in one view, the entire closing history of our Maine' troops, some of which have been not long out of service. We have received a copy of Appendix A. which contains (in over a hundred closely printed pages) a complete Regimental Roster of all the commissioned officers who were mustered into the United States service in Maine Regiments during the war of the Rebellion. This alone is a document of great value. It forms a portion of the main report including pages 1051 to 1155.

—In Police Court yesterday, Francis Duffy and James T. Mayville were brought up on a warrant charging them with having stolen from the person of one Ellen S. Clement, a wallet containing $45. The money was recovered by officer Walker, who found it in Mayville's boot. The defendants were ordered to find bail in $400 for appearance at the Supreme Court.

—Captain and Brevet Major Cochran of the 14th U. S. Infantry, has opened a recruiting office for the regular army, corner of Main and Broad streets.

—We learn that Rev. Smith Baker, Jr. of Orono, has received a call to labor with the Elm Street Congregational Church in Bucksport.

—Three inches of snow fell at Presque Isle on Tuesday of last week, but was immediately carried off by rain.

—The Argus says that there was a fire at Lock's Mills on Friday morning, about two o'clock, destroying the house, store, stable and granery of Jeremiah Bartlett, Esq. The fire was discovered by a woman opposite, who was watching a sick man. She gave the alarm just in season for the occupants of the house to save themselves. About one third of the goods were saved from the store. It is supposed to be the work of an incendiary. Whole amount lost from $10,000 to $12,000. Insured by New York offices for about two-thirds of its value.

—The Chronicle says that Mr. John T. Parker of Farmington, has obtained a patent on an augur for well boring, which bids fair to materially lessen the cost of oil digging, and the sinking of artesian wells. The improvement consists in putting in the tubing as fast as the augur sinks, thus avoiding all trouble from caving. Should it be necessary to take the augur from the well, it collapses and passes out through the tubing.

Capt. A. J. Woodman of Saco, who for the last 18 years, with the exception of about a year and a half in the army, has been in the employ of The Portland Company, has left to take charge of the clothing department of the Boston Duck Manufacturing Coompany, at Dover, N. H. Previous to his departure his employees presented him with an elegant silver ice pitcher.

—The Saco Democrat says of a relic of some ancient woodman, found near Saint Stephen, N. B., [illegible] tree [illegible] the surface, and above which, as ancient forest growth [illegible] a hundred years old.

—The Saco Union says that there was a fire at Lewiston on Tuesday of last week, but was immediately carried off by rain.

—The Saco Democrat says the publication of the names of those brought before the police court has had a remarkable tendency to shorten the lists.

—The Eastport customs dues collected at St. Stephen (opposite Calais) during the past year were $15,000 greater than those for the previous year. This shows the increase of American goods going into the Provinces at that point.

—The boot and shoe manufacture of Lewiston and Auburn this year is estimated to bring in two millions of dollars. We haven't seen any estimate of the Bangor receipts for this kind of business—but they will be considerably less than two millions. What we pay out for shoe-making is another thing, however, and will count up well.

—We see it stated that Rev. S. L. Pomeroy formerly of this city, but for some years past a resident of Massachusetts, has lately received an appointment in the State Department at Washington.

—The Pioneer says that Mr. Kimball, who has supplied the pulpit at the Congregational Church in Presque Isle for the past three months, has left to resume his studies in the Theological Seminary at Bangor. He is a young man of much promise, and has been very acceptable to the people.

—The Bethel farmers have received $30,000 for hops this season at 50 cents a pound. True Dunston of Bethel, raised 3500 pounds from ten acres of land—yielding the handsome sum of $1,750.

—The Argus says that S D Hobson, Esq., of Island Pond, has purchased of Mr. N L Woodbury, his saw-mills, near Island Pond, for $40,000.

—The Anson Advocate tells the following pig story: Mr. Richard Tripp, of Emden, has a litter of five pigs, of the Essex breed, whose aggregate weight, when four weeks old, was 129 pounds, viz: 30, 27, 26, 26, 20, respectively.

—Schr Fair Wind, of Ellsworth, was run into, night of the 31st ult, off Handkerchief Light Ship, by schr Isaac Baker, of Boston. The F W filled with water, and was taken in tow by a fishing vessel.

—Bates College, Lewiston, is erecting a fine building, 80 feet long by 48 wide—with 32 feet posts, for a gymnasium. It is to have a basement, in which there are to be bowling alleys, &c. So says a correspondent of The Argus.

—The Kennebec Journal says Messrs. Treat & Co., of Frankfort, lost $60,000 by the wreck of the brig Alpine, Capt. Kilman, on one of the Florida Reefs, during the late gale.

—Willard Small, the new Postmaster at Auburn, has entered on the duties of his office. The salary of the office has been raised to $1500 per year.

—We see by the Ellsworth American that at the October term of the S J Court held in that place, John S Elwell was sentenced to five years in the State Prison for stealing $10,000 from S G Haskell of Deer Isle.

—The Ellsworth American has the following: "A case of divorce came up before his Honor on Monday, where the wife was re-married. After hearing the witnesses and ordering a divorce, he also ordered the County Attorney to have the present husband prosecuted for a violation of both the statute and the divine law."

A THIEF TRAPPED. A short time since a chap stole a horse in Kittery and in attempting to get him away got bewildered. After getting as far as Eliot he lost his way and got back to Kittery, where he offered the horse for sale to a brother of the owner, who stated that he did not wish to purchase, but that one of his neighbors did, and then showed the thief to his brother's residence. Arriving there the fellow offered to sell the horse to the owner, who, after making many inquiries about age, &c., concluded a purchase. The owner then said they would have to go down to Kittery fore side for the money, and thither the parties went. Arrived there, the owner of the horse told the thief to hold him while he went in to get the money. Instead of getting the money, the owner got a warrant, which, to the great astonishment of the thief, was served upon him and he was taken to the jail in York.

NEW BOOKS. From Mr. E. F. Duren we receive a copy of "The Gypsy's Sowing and Reaping," a new and interesting volume of "The Gypsy Series," by E. Stuart Phelps. Published in Boston by Messrs. Graves & Young. It is handsomely printed and illustrated, and an entertaining story for the young.

From Charles Hight we receive a copy of a small but very important and valuable work by the late Dr. John Ware, entitled "Hints to Young Men, upon the True Relations of the Sexes." Every young man who desires to pass through this life in a manner honorable to himself and just to his own nature should procure this little book and read and reread its contents. It should be in the hands of both sexes. Messrs. A. Williams & Co., of Boston, by whom it is published, request us to say that they will send a copy of the work at 40 cents, each, of to clergymen, or others who may aid in its dissemination, a liberal discount.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., Nov. 4.

Hon. A. H. Stephens, in a private letter to a gentleman in this city, incidentally alludes to the statement published in a northern journal regarding himself and his brother, in the matter of the constitutional amendment, and characterises it as utterly without foundation. He thinks the Legislature should reject the amendment, probably.

FELLOWS' ORIGINAL WORM LOZENGES.

WE can with confidence point to FELLOWS' WORM LOZENGES as the most perfect remedy for those troublesome pests,

INTESTINAL WORMS.

After years of careful experiment, success has crowned our efforts, and we now offer to the world a confection without a single fault, being safe, convenient, effectual and pleasant. No injurious result can occur, let them be used in whatever quantity. Not a particle of calomel enters their composition. They may be used without further preparation, and at any time. Children will eagerly devour all you give them, and ask for more. They never fail in expelling Worms from their dwelling-place, and they will always strengthen the weak and emaciated, even when he is not afflicted with worms.

Various remedies have, from time to time, been recommended, such as calomel, oil of wormseed, turpentine, &c., producing dangerous and sometimes fatal consequences. After much research, study and experiments, embracing several years, the proprietors of FELLOWS' WORM LOZENGES have succeeded in producing this remedy, free from all objections, and positively safe, pleasant and effectual. They do not kill the worms, but act by making their dwelling place disagreeable to them. In order to assure consumers of the genuineness of these Lozenges, the analysis of Dr. A. A. HAYES, State Assayer, is annexed:—

"I have analyzed the WORM LOZENGES prepared by Messrs. FELLOWS & CO., and find that they are free from mercury and other metalic or mineral matter. These Lozenges are skilfully compounded, pleasant to the taste, safe, yet sure and effectual in their action. Respectfully, A. A. HAYES, M. D., Assayer to the State of Mass."

EXCLAMATORY.

At church I sat within his pew—
Oh, pew!
But I could not hear the sermon
For blue eyes!
I saw dress far over my head at
I saw her bow her head so gracious—
Oh, Gracious!
The choir sang
The music rang
And seemed to fill the building spacious.
I could not hear the gospel law—
Oh, law!
My future bride
Was by my side—
I found all else a mighty bore!
And so when peealed the organ's thunder—
Oh, Thunder!
I fixed my eyes
In mute surprise
On her whose beauty was a wonder.
To me that maiden was most dear—
Oh, dear!
And she was image
Joy too divine
For human words to picture here.
Her love seemed like a prayer to bless me—
Oh, bless me!
Before she came
My life was lame
My rarest joys could but express me.
The service done, we sought the shore—
Oh, Shore!
And there we walked
And sadly talked
More sadly talked than ever before.
I thought she was the type of goodness—
Oh, Goodness!
But on that day
I heard her say
Plain words whose very tone was rudeness.
We strolled beyond the saw-mill's dam—
Oh, Dam!
She jilted me!
And now I see
That woman's love is all a sham!

LETTER FROM A FARMER'S WIFE.—A lady correspondent writes to the Rural New Yorker the following sensible letter, which some city wives may take to heart as well as their country sisters.

I have often been puzzled to understand why some of the really intelligent ladies of my acquaintance should seem to have an interest separate from that of their husbands. One would think, to hear them talk, that they almost hated their liege lords, and studied constantly to overreach them, or get money so as to gratify their love of display. I will explain what I mean, by giving instances.

Not many weeks ago, I heard a lady boasting to my acquaintance how she managed to get some silver spoons. She said—

'Lawyer B.——and his wife were here to dinner, and I had been teasing Mix to get some spoons before they came, but he said, 'we could not afford it.' But I was determined to have the spoons, so when Mix handed the soup, I observed—

'I am sorry we have no spoons to offer you, but Mix thinks we cannot afford it.' Mix turned red and looked very angry, but did not say a word till they were gone; then throwing twenty dollars upon the table, he said—

'Here is all the money I have got, Jane, but take it and get some spoons, and tell Mr. Newton that I will hand him the rest soon. I had rather work night and day to earn the money than have this scene repeated.'

I felt almost sorry I had spoken so. I know it was most to bad, but I've got the spoons now, and I don't care.

Since then I heard her remark—

'I want a new set of chairs for my parlor; those we have look old fashioned, and I shall give Mix no rest till he gets them.'

I could not help thinking what a happy fire side Mr. Mix must have to come home to after his weary day's toil; and yet, Mrs. M. would be shocked should any one tell her she was wanting in a proper regard for her husband.

A farmer's pretty little wife said to me, recently—

'All the money that I get for eggs and butter, and chickens, is mine, and I do not take it to buy groceries either, as Mrs. Maxon does. I think that belongs to the men.'

But this does not sound quite so absurd as Mrs. Few's talk. It so happened that she had, before her marriage, considerable property of her own, which was used in purchasing land; so, therefore, she calls it all hers. She says—when Mr. Few is present, too—

'Oh! dear; it is hard times. I don't know what I shall do, but I am going to have some of these horses and cows sold, for I do not intend to buy hay this winter.' Turning to her husband she adds, 'I tell you what Mr. Few, I am going to have a well dug next summer; and it is a good day to draw stone, so you may as well go to work at it, and get them on the spot.'

Mr. Few walks quietly out of the house, with his head hanging down, as if he wished his wife did not know so much.

I know more than one man who, report says, will not buy or sell even a sheep or a pig without his wife's consent. Now, I should be ashamed to have people think my husband did not know enough to manage his own business, or that I could not find profitable employment without being troubled with all the minutia of my husband's farming concerns.

Equally vulgar, and still more distressing to witness, is a scene like the following—Mr. Perkins is putting on his overcoat. Mrs. Perkins, bustling about the house, observes the movement, and asks in a loud tone—

'Where are you going?'

'To the village,' answers Mr. Perkins, sullily.

'Well, I want you to get some tea, and four yards of brown and white gingham I saw at Mr. Pratt's store.'

'Yes, I presume you do; I never went to a store and you knew it, but you wanted something. It is nothing but get, get, get, and I am tired of it.'

'There, Mr. Perkins, now that sounds pretty. Yesterday, I was at Mr. Snow's when he was getting ready to go away, and he stepped up to his wife, and said—

'Is there anything you wish me to get to-day, Emily?

'Now I should think the world was coming to an end, if you should ask me such a question.'

'No danger of my asking you. You never give me a chance,' added Mr. Perkins hastily, hanging the door after him, for fear of hearing a reply.

'For myself, I felt as if I would like to creep out of some back door. They had undoubtedly forgotten my presence.

'But it is time my gossiping was brought to a close. Should any of my neighbors recognize their own peculiarities, they will please pardon the liberty, and endeavor to profit by the picture.'

IT'S ME.—Passing a neat little marble box of a house, last evening, we happened to see a man waiting at the door for admittance. At that instant a green blind above just opened a little way, and by the gas-light we caught glimpses of a pair of brilliant eyes and a hand of dazzling white, and a silver toned voice softly said, 'Who's there?' 'It's me,' was the brief response. The eyes and the flutter disappeared from the window, like stars in a cloud, and we walked, leisurely, as we passed on, we could hear the pattering of two little feet upon the stairs, winged with welcome.

'It's me!' had been a phrase of instant, but it haunted us for an hour. It's me! Amid the din of the great city those words fell from the quivering lips and met a kindred response.

'It's me!' and who was that? The pride of a peerless life, and that was the name a vine was clinging to; the Defender of Fortress, in the best sense of the word.

'It's me!' Many times we are ready to give half their kingdom, and more, for a word like that.

THE HOPE IN THEM, for one such recognition in this wide, wide world. On 'Change, in the Directory, at the Post Office, he was known as A. B. C., Esq, but on that threshhold and within those walls, 'It's me!' and nothing more: and what more is there one would love to be?

Few of all hearts that beat so wildly, warmly, sadly, slowly, can recognize a true soul amid the din and darkness of the world in that simple but eloquent 'It's me!' As if he had said:

'Now I am nothing to all the world,
For I'm all the world to thee.'

Ritchie's Liquid Compass!

THE Ritchie Compass which has been the standard Compass in the navy for upwards of four years, and also in extensive use in the merchant service, should be used on every class of vessels where a compass is to be depended on. It combines all the qualities of a perfect instrument. To extreme sensitiveness and perfect steadiness is added a strength and durability which prevents them from getting out of order like other compasses. The reason of this is apparent to any one upon examination. A single trial of this compass has always resulted in its adoption and the rejection of every other kind.

PENOBSCOT MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY,

BANGOR, MAINE.

OFFICE,—Corner of Hammond and Central Streets.

Incorporated 1836.

THIS COMPANY IS WHOLLY MUTUAL. It is strictly a Benevolent Institution for Mutual Protection.

This Company being purely Mutual, insures at the lowest possible rates. The members in reality insure each other, and the accumulated assets are held by the Company in trust, to meet its obligations to them.

Among the many reasons why this Company deserves the liberal support and patronage which it has attained, are the following:—

It offers the most ample and undoubted security to its members. It possesses over $230,000,

IN RELIABLE ASSETS.

The business of the Company is confined exclusively to Fire Insurance. The Assets, in proportion to the amount at risk, are probably greater than those of any Established Company in the United States. It has always adjusted and settled its losses with prompt-ness and liberality. It is economical in its business. Its Directors are well known—they are men of wealth, reliability, and integrity. It being purely a Maine Institution—other things being equal—entitles it to a preference over Foreign Corporations.

This Company will continue as heretofore to insure persons against

SNOW POWDER

Patented May 29, 1866.

This is an article for washing without rubbing, except in very dirty places, which will require a very slight rub, and unlike other preparations offered for a like purpose, WILL NOT ROT THE CLOTHES, but will leave them much WHITER than ordinary methods, without the usual wear and tear.

It removes grease spots as if by magic, and softens the dirt by soaking, so that rinsing will in ordinary cases entirely remove it.

This powder is prepared in accordance with chemical science, and upon a process peculiar to itself, which is secured by Letters Patent. It has been in use for more than a year, and has proved itself an universal favorite wherever it has been used.—Among the advantages claimed are the following, viz:—

It saves all the expense of soap usually used on cotton and linen goods.

It saves most of the labor of rubbing, and wear and tear.

Also for cleaning windows it is unsurpassed.—With one quarter the time and labor usually required it imparts a beautiful gloss and lustre, much superior to any other mode. No water required except to moisten the powder.

Directions with each package.

And can be readily appreciated by a single trial. The cost of washing for a family of five or six persons will not exceed THREE CENTS.

The manufacturers of this powder are aware that many useless compounds have been introduced to the public which have rotted the cloth, or failed in removing the dirt, but knowing the intrinsic excellence of this article, they confidently proclaim it as being adapted to meet a want which has long existed, and which has heretofore remained unsupplied.

THE

BEST COOKING STOVE,

IN THE MARKET.

"PEERLESS," FOR COAL OR WOOD.

THE "PEERLESS" has all the advantages of the popular stoves in use, together with such NEW FEATURES as justify the manufacturers in calling it the BEST COOKING STOVE in the market.

It is the "PEERLESS," because it is superior to all other Cooking Stoves in Economy, Simplicity, Cleanliness, Baking, Roasting and Beauty.

1st, ECONOMY. A patented method of heating the air and conveying it through the oven, saves from twenty to thirty per cent. of fuel.

2d, SIMPLICITY. It is easily managed. The fire can be perfectly controlled and kept through an entire season without rekindling.

3d, CLEANLINESS. No dust escapes while shaking or dumping the grate.

4th, BAKING. Its large oven, wherein all parts are of equal temperature, bakes as evenly as a brick oven, and that without turning the article. It bakes quickly. It will bake upon the oven rack quickly, evenly and well at the same time the oven bottom is fully employed in baking or roasting.

5th, ROASTING. A current of hot air constantly passing through the oven, so thoroughly ventilates it, that it equals as well as a tin kitchen.

6th, BEAUTY. Made of the best iron, it will not crack. Well mounted, artistically designed, and smoothly cast, it is the most beautiful as well as the most serviceable stove in the market.

Each stove is WARRANTED to be and to do all that is claimed for it.
